In dieser Ausgabe:
ein Exklusiv-Bericht vom WIDESCREEN WEEKEND in editorial

Hallo Laserdisc- und DVD-Fans, liebe Filmfreunde!

Kaum zu glauben: die TITANIC schwimmt wieder! Nein, es handelt sich dabei nicht etwa um einen verspäteten Aprilscherz, sondern um knallharte Fakten aus der DVD-Welt. Einer Pressemitteilung zufolge nämlich wird James Camerons "Oscar"-prämiertes Meisterwerk im Oktober dieses Jahres in Form einer Special Edition vom Stapel laufen. Und was die Fans ganz speziell freuen dürfte ist die Tatsache, dass eigens für diese Special Edition ein neuer Bildtransfer hergestellt wurde - anamorph, wohlgemerkt. Jetzt endlich kommen wir der Sache näher. Denn die bislang erhältliche "Vanilla"-Version von TITANIC bot dem Betrachter leider nur ein 4x3 Bild im Letterbox-Format. Zusätzlich hat sich Cameron für eine 6.1-Tonmischung entschieden, die vermutlich in den beiden gängigen Techniken Dolby Digital und DTS auf der neuen DVD enthalten sein wird. Und damit die Fans auch wirklich wieder die Qual der Wahl haben, sollen gleichzeitig ein 2-DVD-Set sowie ein 4-DVD-Set erscheinen. Die Doppel-Disc bietet Audiokommentare und einige Extras, das Vierer-Set noch zwei weitere DVDs mit exklusivem Bonusmaterial, darunter über eine Stunde an nicht verwendeten Szenen. Wer jetzt glaubt, dass sich Cameron noch einmal an seinem Magnum Opus mit der Schere zu schaffen macht, der irrt. Cameron hat klar gestellt, dass er mit der vorliegenden Kinofassung mehr als zufrieden ist. Somit wird es also keine "Special Extended Version" oder ähnlichen Schnickschnack geben. Laut Pressemitteilung soll es jedoch dem Betrachter möglich sein, die geschnittenen Szenen während dem Film hinzuzuschalten und so seine eigene Schnittfassung zu generieren. Bleibt noch zu erwähnen, dass TITANIC in den USA durch Paramount und im Rest der Welt durch Fox vermarktet wird. Weitere Details werden zu einem späteren Zeitpunkt bekanntgegeben.

EntGEISTERt

Da warten die hartgesottenen Fans nun schon seit Wochen auf eine der interessantesten DVD-Veröffentlichungen, die in diesem Jahr erscheinen werden. Und fast hätten sie es geschafft. Doch wieder einmal schlug das Schicksal unbarmherzig zu. Denn Lars von Triers Spukserie GEISTER 1&2 wurde vom Hersteller Koch Media vom 31. März auf den 12. Mai verschoben. Wer also bereits ein langes DVD-Wochenende mit diesem Ausnahmewerk anberaunt hat, der sollte sich schnellstmöglich nach Ersatz umschaun oder seine Gäste auf Mitte Mai vertrösten. Das ist zwar sehr schade, doch andererseits bietet die Terminverschiebung auch weiterhin die Möglichkeit, sich auf die Begegnung mit Lars von Triers Krankenhausgeschichte zu freuen! Und was könnte es schöneres geben als die Vorfreude auf ein geniales Werk...

Mögen Sie's asiatisch?

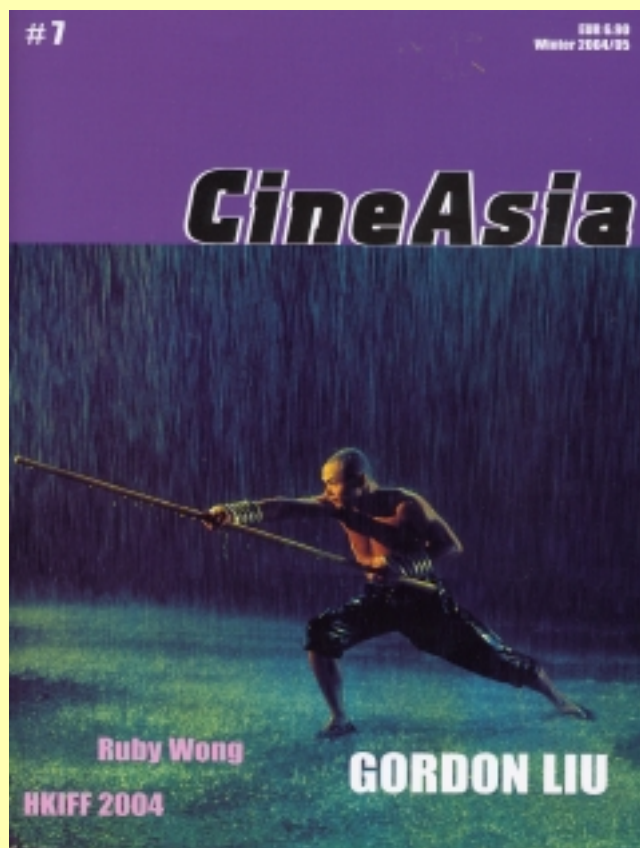

Darauf waren wir nun wirklich nicht vorbereitet und trauten unseren Augen kaum, als wir das Paket zugestellt bekamen. Aber es ist tatsächlich wahr: nach einer Wartezeit von mehr als einem Jahr ist die neueste Ausgabe der Hochglanzzeitschrift CineAsia endlich erschienen! Wie immer bietet auch die neue Ausgabe einen sehr informativen Blick in die aktuelle asiatische Filmwelt mit vielen Hintergrundinfos und Filmrezensionen - und das alles in Deutsch. Wenn Sie asiatisches Kino mögen, dann wird Ihnen CineAsia garantiert gefallen. Heft Nr. 7 kostet EUR 6,90 und ist ab sofort bei uns zu haben.

Ihr LASER HOTLINE Team

Nimmt im Oktober wieder Fahrt auf: James Camerons TITANIC bekommt ein „Face-Lifting“ in Form einer Special Edition

Totgesagte leben länger: nach langer Sendepause gibt's endlich das neue CINEASIA-Heft

the SEA INSIDE

Der Tod ist für den Spanier Alejandro Amenábar ein Faszinosum. Nach dem düsteren Mystery-Thriller „The Others“ greift er in „Mar Adentro“ das brisante Thema Sterbehilfe auf. Basierend auf dem Buch von Ramón Sampredo, der seinem Leben bewusst ein Ende setzte, plädiert er ohne pädagogischen Zeigefinger für Selbstbestimmung des Individuums und sorgte damit auf dem Lido für kontroverse Diskussionen und für volle Kassen in den spanischen Kinos.

„Ich bin ins Leben verliebt. Deshalb will ich etwas besseres“:
Ramón Sampredo wählte im Alter von 55 Jahren den Tod und die quälenden Minuten bis zum Exitus aus. Er nimmt sich die Freiheit, die Charaktere der beiden Frauen neu zu zeichnen bzw. aus verschiedenen anderen zusammenzusetzen, die Ramón umgaben und auch Liebesgefühle für ihn hegten. Weiterhin fokussiert er sich auf das Vater-Sohn ähnliche Verhältnis des Gelähmten zu seinem Neffen, die Beziehung zu seiner Schwägerin und zu seinem Bruder, einem entschiedenen Gegner der Sterbehilfe.

„Mar Adentro“ ist weder präntiöses Rührstück mit massiver musikalischer Unterstützung noch - wie die Deutsche Hospitz entfachte damit 1998 eine hitzige Debatte um die Beihilfe zum Suizid. Für den in Chile geborenen Amenábar war es nur logisch, das Schicksal dieser Symbolfigur für den Kampf um ein würdevolles Sterben zu verfilmen, geht es doch um die für ihn existenzielle Beziehung zwischen Mensch und Tod. Und so nimmt er mit auf eine Reise nach Galizien, hinaus auf die See und in die innere Welt eines Mannes, der nach einem Badeunfall vom Hals abwärts gelähmt und 30 Jahre auf die Hilfe von Verwandten und Freunden angewiesen war. Was ihm blieb von der Außenwelt war der Blick aus dem Fenster auf das Meer, die Träume von einem anderen Dasein. Die intellektuelle Juristin Julia unterstützt ihn bei der Auseinandersetzung mit der Justiz, auf der anderen Seite versucht die herzliche und einfache Arbeiterin Rosa ihn von der Wertigkeit eines jeden Lebens zu überzeugen. Wenn Sampredo vor laufender Videokamera Gift trinkt, spart Amenábar auch nicht Stiftung behauptet - eine unrealistische „Propaganda für Euthanasie“, sondern ein aufwühlendes Melodram, das dem Zuschauer zwar Tränen entlockt, aber nie in gefälligen Kitsch abgleitet. Dafür sorgt schon der trockene Humor, der jegliche falsche Sentimentalität relativiert und für die nötige Erdschwere sorgt. Und wenn der bildverliebte Regisseur mal wieder in Poesie und Kamerafahrten über die galizische Landschaft und das Meer schwelgt, ist es Javier Bardem (verdient mit der Coppa Volpi als Bester Darsteller ausgezeichnet), der mit einer irritierenden Mischung aus Trauer und Selbstironie jeglicher Gefühlsdusselei einen Riegel vorschiebt. mk.

Ein vollgepackter Kinosaal. Gedämpftes Licht. Ein edler roter Vorhang, der bereits die Dimensionen der gekrümmten Bildwand dahinter erahnen lässt. Nur noch ein paar Minuten bis zur offiziellen Eröffnung eines kleinen Festivals mit überbreiten Filmen. Da betritt ein alter Mann mit weißem Bart die Bühne, begleitet von einem Mitvierziger. Das Publikum lauscht gespannt. Der alte Herr wird uns vorgestellt als Todd-AO-Pionier Walter Siegmund, der als Ehrengast während der Dauer des Festivals zugegen sein wird. Walter Siegmund nimmt das Mikrofon in die Hand und sagt mit präziser Stimme "You don't know how good it feels to stand in front of a curved screen again!". Tosender Applaus! Spätestens jetzt wird einem klar, dass man sich inmitten einer vom Aussterben bedrohten Spezies von Filmfans befindet, die noch wissen, was es bedeutet, einen für die große Leinwand konzipierten Film im entsprechenden Ambiente und der geeigneten Technik zu erleben. Willkommen also zum alljährlich stattfindenden Widescreen Weekend in Bradford, jenem Städtchen in der landschaftlich wunderschönen englischen Grafschaft Yorkshire, welches das National Museum of Photography, Film & Television beherbergt. Diese staatlich geförderte Institution im Herzen von Bradford bietet filminteressierten Menschen nicht nur ein faszinierendes, sich auf mehrere Etagen erstreckendes Museum mit Ausstellungsstücken zum Thema Film und Fotografie von den Anfängen bis zur Neuzeit, das zum nahezu ganztägigen Verweilen und Forschen einlädt, sondern darüber hinaus auch noch gleich drei Kinosäle: ein IMAX-Kino, ausgestattet mit dem neuesten 2D/3D-Projektor und einem bombastischen Soundsystem, dem relativ kleinen Cubby Broccoli Theatre und dem luxuriösen Pictureville Cinema, jenem Erlebnistempel also, das wir während der nächsten fünf Tage als unser Zuhause bezeichnen würden.

Vorangegangen war natürlich wie immer eine gründliche Reiseplanung. Von Stuttgart aus mit dem Flugzeug nach Manchester und von dort mit dem Bus nach Bradford. Abgesehen von der Tatsache, dass wir unseren Flieger in Stuttgart um ein Haar verpasst hätten, da die Sicherheitschecks für Touristen nach England doppelt und dreifach durchgeführt werden und dadurch eine ganze Menge an Zeitaufwand anfällt, abgesehen von dieser kleinen Schrecksekunde also verlief die Reise vollkommen problemlos. Fast sekunden genau trafen wir am Zielort ein. Da es jetzt allerdings schon Nachmittag war, mussten wir notgedrungen auf den ersten Film des Festivals verzichten. Aber wir hatten ja noch genügend viele Filme vor uns und so fiel es uns nicht schwer, auf die 70mm-Produktion STAR! zu verzichten und stattdessen in unserem Hotel eine kleine Erholungspause einzulegen. Schließlich wollten wir ja für die erste Abendvorstellung richtig fit sein und wussten auch schon, dass es mit Ruhepausen während der kommenden Tage nicht zum Besten bestellt sein würde.

Das Pictureville Cinema war vom Hotel in wenigen Minuten zu Fuß erreichbar, was uns jedoch durch den eisigen Wind bedingt doppelt so lange vor kam! Im großzügigen Foyer konnten wir uns dann erst einmal aufwärmen und unsere vorbestellten, platzgebundenen Dauerkarten, die sogenannten "Badges", in Empfang nehmen. Und da man sich bei den Organisatoren des Widescreen Weekends sehr wohl bewusst ist, dass es sich bei den "Badge"-Besitzern fast ausschließlich um Filmenthusiasten und -sammlern handelt, erhielt jeder "Badge"-Inhaber noch eine große Tragetasche in die

Hand gedrückt, die randvoll gefüllt war mit vielen "Goodies": eine Demo-DVD, eine CD-ROM, ein Thermobecher, eine Mütze, und und und. Allesamt kostenlose Gaben der Sponsoren des Festivals und allesamt schöne Trophäen für die Sammlung zuhause. Inzwischen war es richtig voll geworden - nicht nur im Foyer mit seiner schönen Bar, an der es einen exzellenten Cappuccino gibt sowie eine reichhaltige Auswahl an Kuchen und Sandwiches - nein, auch der Kinosaal war richtig voll. Unsere Sitzplätze im amphitheatermäßig aufgebauten Saal waren optimal. Nicht nur, dass wir eine unbehinderte Sicht auf die Leinwand hatten, man konnte von unseren Plätzen auch das Publikum wunderbar studieren. Höchst erstaunlich ist die Tatsache, dass man hier als Mitvierziger bereits zu den jüngeren Zuschauern gehört! Ganz anders also wie beim Fantasy Filmfest, wo wir schon zu den Senioren zählen. Aber das ist wohl nicht ohne Grund so. Das Motto dieses Widescreen Weekends lautete "50 Years of Todd-AO". 1955 war es nämlich, als der amerikanische Unternehmer Michael Todd seinen Traum vom

"Cinerama mit nur einem Projektor" verwirklichte und der Filmwelt das von ihm entwickelte Todd-AO Verfahren präsentierte. Todd-AO bedeutet Aufnahme auf 65mm Negativfilm und Wiedergabe mit 70mm Positivfilm inklusive 6-Kanal Stereo-Magnetton. Ein Verfahren, das durch seine unglaubliche Bildqualität auch heute noch besticht und das leider schon seit Ende der 60er Jahre nicht mehr zum Einsatz kommt - von ganz wenigen Ausnahmen abgesehen. Kein Wunder also, dass die nachgewachsenen Kinogängergenerationen das "Wunder von Todd-AO", wie es die Werbung in den 50er Jahren deklarierte, nie zu Gesicht bekommen haben und somit gar nicht wissen, welche Qualität Kinofilme tatsächlich haben können. Viele der anwesenden Besucher hatten das große Glück, die damalige Kinoqualität miterlebt zu haben. Und so war es denn für die überwiegende Anzahl dieser Seniorinnen und Senioren ein Wiedersehen mit den Kinoevents aus der Jugend. Damals war der Gang ins Kino noch ein richtiges Ereignis und keineswegs zu vergleichen mit der heute üblichen Fast Food Mentalität eines sterilen Multiplex-Kinos. Viele der in den 50er- und 60er-Jahren produzierten Todd-AO-Filme waren mit Ouvertüren, Pausen und Intermezzi ausgestattet und machten so das Kinogehen zu einem echten Erlebnis. Und dass das Widescreen Weekend diese großen Kinozeiten wieder heraufbeschwor, dafür sorgten zum einen private Filmsammler, die einige der gezeigten 70mm-Kopien beisteuerten und zum anderen das ausgezeichnete Projektionsteam, das mit viel Fachverstand und Sinn für gepflegte Vorführungen harte Knochenarbeit leistete. Wer Kino nur aus dem örtlichen Multiplex kennt und ansonsten Filme nur im kleinen Heimkino betrachtet, dem sei eine Reise zum Widescreen Weekend wärmstens empfohlen. Nun mag man natürlich über Sinn und Unsinn der damals produzierten Filme streiten. Doch in Anbetracht der phantastischen Qualität jener Streifen drückt man hier und da schon gerne mal ein Auge zu und sagt sich "They don't do them like this anymore!" Und das ist dann im positiven Sinn gemeint. Einige der zur Aufführung gebrachten Filme wurden liebevoll durch Filmexperten Tony Earnshaw mit einleitenden Worten versehen, die oft kleine, aber feine Details über die Entstehung des entsprechenden Films preisgaben und beim Publikum mit viel Applaus und Schmunzeln aufgenommen wurden. Überhaupt war das Publikum sehr applausfreudig und es war schon bald ganz normal, dass jede Vorführung beklatscht wurde - von ganzem Herzen, wohlgemerkt. Wenn man den Dokumentarfilm CINEMANIA gesehen hat, in welchem das Leben von ein paar New Yorker Filmverrückten gezeigt wird, so bleibt einem einer der dort gesagten Sätze im Ohr: "Film Fans do not socialize". Was soviel heißt wie "Filmfans haben keine sozialen Kontakte". Bradford hat uns aufs Neue gelehrt, dass das offensichtlich nicht für die Widescreen Enthusiasten gilt. Zwischen den Vorstellungen nutzte ein jeder die Gelegenheit, mit den Nebensitzern über das gerade Erlebte zu diskutieren, obwohl man sich gar nicht kannte. So ergaben sich viele schöne Gespräche. Kurz: man war eigentlich unter sich - und genoss es in vollen Zügen. Besonders beim alljährlichen "Come Together", bei dem sich alle "Badge"-Inhaber bei einem (oder zwei) Glas Wein zwanglos austauschen können, war das Gemeinschaftsgefühl richtig zu spüren. Den Veranstaltern muss man es wirklich anerkennen, dass sie das richtige Gespür für ihre Kunden haben und wissen, wie man Film-enthusiasten begeistern kann. Ein dickes Lob an Bill Lawrence und sein Team vom Pictureville Cinema.

Doch was gab es nun eigentlich tatsächlich auf der großen Leinwand zu bestaunen? Hier nun die Fakten:

Donnerstag, 10. März 2005

14:00 Uhr

STAR!

70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal Stereo Magnetton

Von uns aus reisetechischen Gründen leider nicht gesehen.

19:45 Uhr

OUT OF AFRICA

70mm 1:1.85, 6-Kanal Dolby Stereo Magnetton

Vorgeführt auf der flachen Leinwand

Mitte bis Ende der 80er Jahre war es Sitte in Hollywood, alle wichtigen Filme auf 70mm aufzublasen, um von dem gegenüber Dolby Stereo Lichtton sehr viel besseren mehrkanaligen Magnetton mit Dolby-Rauschunterdrückung zu profitieren. Da mit 35mm Negativfilm aufgenommen wurde, gab es natürlich beim künstlich erzeugten 70mm Bild keine Qualitätssteigerung. Die gezeigte Kopie, die beträchtliche Farbsprünge zwischen den einzelnen Akten aufwies, war enttäuschend. Das Bild war einfach unscharf und ohne Brillanz. Ein sehr liebloser Blow-Up. Dennoch erstaunte uns das extrem gut ausgeleuchtete Bild.

10:00 Uhr

THOSE MAGNIFICENT MEN IN THEIR FLYING MACHINES

70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal Stereo Magnetton

*inklusive Pause und Intermezzo
Vorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand*

Ken Annakins Klassiker über das Flugzeugrennen von London nach Paris wurde im echten Todd-AO-Verfahren aufgenommen und brillierte hier mit seiner faszinierenden Schärfe und dem herrlichen Stereoton. Leider waren die Farben teilweise schon ziemlich ausgebleicht und man würde sich wünschen, diesen Film in einer farbrestaurierten Fassung zu erleben.

13:00

DOCTOR DOLITTLE (1967)

70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal DTS Ton

*inklusive Ouvertüre, Pause, Intermezzo und Exit Music
Vorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand*

Twentieth Century Fox steuerte eine nagelneue 70mm-Kopie dieses Film-musicals mit Rex Harrison bei. Der in Todd-AO produzierte Film konnte seine richtige Farbwirkung allerdings erst nach der Pause entfalten, als die ganze Szenerie in die Südsee verlagert wurde. Das waren satte, herrliche Farben und eine sehr schöne Bildschärfe, die keine 35mm-Kopie bieten kann. Nur leider ist das Musical selbst ziemlich langweilig und sorgte bei uns für Durchhänger während der Vorführung.

18:00 Uhr

BARAKA70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal Dolby Stereo
Magnetton*Vorgeführt auf der flachen Leinwand*

Ron Frickes Ethno-Doku wurde im Original 70mm-Format aufgenommen und besticht durch atemberaubende Farben und Bildschärfe. Die aus Privatbesitz stammende Kopie hatte leider schon gravierende Tonprobleme. Für eine Kopie, die aus der Mitte der 90er Jahre stammt, eigentlich ein Unding. Wieder mehr ein Beweis dafür, dass viel zu wenig getan wird in Bezug auf optimale Lagerung solcher Filmschätze.

20:00 Uhr

HELLO DOLLY!70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal DTS Ton
inklusive Pause und Intermezzo*Vorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand*

Mit diesem Musical bewies Regisseur Gene Kelly, dass er es aufs Vortrefflichste verstand, das Todd-AO-Format optimal zu nutzen. Dank dieser nagelneuen Kopie, die in Bildschärfe und Farbgebung nicht mehr zu überbieten war, wurde man von Barbra Streisand und Walter Matthau wahrlich mitgerissen. So sehr sogar, dass es immer wieder spontanen Szenenapplaus gab. Ein absolutes Highlight!

10:00 Uhr

SCENT OF MYSTERY (HOLIDAY IN SPAIN)

70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal Stereo Magnetton

inklusive PauseVorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand

Mögen Sie Trash? Wir auch! Und da war SCENT OF MYSTERY genau das Richtige. Der ursprünglich als erster "Smell-O-Vision"-Film in Todd-AO gedrehte Film wurde in einer geruchsneutralen Kopie (also ohne die dazugehörigen Düfte) vorgeführt, dafür aber mit makelloser Bildschärfe - nur leider ohne Farben. Denn die Kopie war komplett rotstichig. Dennoch amüsierten wir uns köstlich bei der wirklich abstrusen Handlung. Herrlich! Im Anschluss an den Film stand Kameramann und Regisseur Jack Cardiff dem Publikum Rede und Antwort und steuerte noch etliche heitere Anekdoten zu seiner Entstehung bei. Mit seinen über 90 Jahren ist Jack Cardiff ein Beweis dafür, dass man auch im hohen Alter noch geistig total fit sein kann - und das macht Hoffnung!

14:30

HOW THE WEST WAS WON

3-Streifen Cinerama 1:3, 7-Kanal Stereo Magnetton

inklusive Ouvertüre, Pause, Intermezzo und Exit MusicVorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand

Wer es noch nie erlebt hat, dem sei es ans Herz gelegt. Das Pictureville Cinerama ist das einzige kommerzielle Kino in Europa, das Cinerama-Filme nach dem 3-Streifen-Verfahren spielen kann. Und HOW THE WEST WAS WON ist ein Paradestück für dieses Filmformat. Die aus unterschiedlichen Kopien zu einer Komplettversion zusammengesetzte Fassung fasziniert immer wieder aufs Neue. So also war es in jenen Tagen, als Cinerama das Kino revolutionierte, um das Publikum von dem damals neuen Medium Fernsehen wieder in die großen Kinosäle zu holen.

19:30

OKLAHOMA!

70mm 1:2.21, 30fps*, 6-Kanal Stereo

Magnettoninklusive Ouvertüre, Pause, Intermezzo und Exit MusicVorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand

Der erste Todd-AO-Film der Filmgeschichte. Aufgenommen und vorgeführt mit 30 Bildern/Sekunde (im Gegensatz zu 24 Bildern/Sekunde). Die höhere Bildfrequenz machte sich bei dieser relativ neuen und intakten Kopie auf der gekrümmten Leinwand durchaus bemerkbar. So waren beispielsweise Kameraschwenks sehr viel ruhiger und gaben dem Film einen lebensechteren Charakter.

Stillecht gab es dazu als Vorprogramm den Todd-AO Kurzfilm THE MIRACLE OF TODD-AO, ebenfalls in 70mm mit 30 Bildern/Sekunde.

CINERAMACANA

Dieser Veranstaltungsteil ist immer wieder für Überraschungen gut. Denn hier spielt das Publikum Programmmacher. Jeder, der interessante kleine Filme in seiner privaten Sammlung besitzt, kann sich hier be-teiligen und seine Schätze einem breiten Publikum präsentieren. Ein faszinierendes Sammelsurium von "Bits & Pieces" für echte Fans. Da gab es beispielsweise den Filmvorführer aus den USA, der eigens angereist war, um den treuen Fans den bekannten DTS-Demo-Film endlich einmal im 70mm-Format zu zeigen. Oder jenen Herrn vom Filminstitut in Amsterdam, der das Publikum mit Trailern von EL CID, 55 DAYS AT PEKING und CUSTER OF THE WEST jeweils im 70mm-Format ins Staunen versetzte. Sehr beeindruckend auch die Anfangssequenz des 3-Streifen Cinerama Films THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF THE BROTHERS GRIMM, der hier tatsächlich im original Cinerama-Verfahren präsentiert wurde. Da leider kein Ton mehr vorhanden war, wurde dieser von der entsprechenden LaserDisc eingespielt - und war erstaunlich synchron! Aus Holland wurde ein 70mm-Trailer für RISEING SUN beige-steuert, der die Tonanlage schön zu nutzen wusste. Hochinteressant auch das Mitbringsel eines weiteren Amerikaners: ein Ausschnitt aus OKLAHOMA - in 35mm CinemaScope und 4-Kanal Stereo Magnetton. Die Anwesenden konnten hier direkt mit dem am Vorabend gezeigten 70mm-Print desselben Films vergleichen. Uns beeindruckte hier insbesondere der 4-kanalige Stereoton-Mix! Im Rahmen der "Cineramacana" gab es dann noch einen kurzen Vortrag von Dion Hanson, dem Vorsitzenden des Projected Picture Trust, einem gemeinnützigen Verein, der sich um die Pflege und Restaurierung alter Kinoprojektoren und allem, was dazugehört, kümmert. Eine sehr lobenswerte Einrichtung. Seinen Abschluss fand der Vortrag mit einem kurzen Demo-Film zum Thema "Cyan Track", jener neuen Lichttonspur, die ab sofort weltweit Einzug in die Kinos halten und damit die bisherige Silbernitrat-Tonspur der 35mm-Kopien ablösen wird. Insgesamt war "Cineramacana" also eine sehr interessante und abwechslungsreiche Präsentation, die wie jedes Jahr im sogenannten "Audience on Stage Picture" gipfelte. Wer wollte, der konnte sich jetzt vor der gekrümmten Cinerama-Leinwand zum "Familienfoto" aufbauen. Klare Sache, dass man sich das nicht zweimal sagen ließ. Das Ergebnis können Sie im Internet auf www.in70mm.com anschauen.

AMADEUS (DIRECTOR'S CUT)
35mm CinemaScope 1:2.35, Dolby Digital

Vorgeführt auf der flachen Leinwand
Eigentlich hatte sich Chefkameramann und Oscar-Preisträger Milos Forman für diese Vorführung angemeldet. Doch in letzter Minute musste er seine Teilnahme absagen. Sein Zahnarzt hatte ihm die Reise aufgrund einer bevorstehenden Operation verboten! Schade, doch "such is Life!" Immerhin wurde die 35mm-Kopie des Director's Cuts von Milos Formans genialem AMADEUS durch Herrn Ondricek persönlich freigegeben und so ließ sich das Publikum für fast drei Stunden von der Rivalität zwischen Mozart und Salieri auf angenehme Art und Weise gefangen nehmen

16:45

THE AGONY AND THE ECSTASY
70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal DTS Ton inklusive Pause, Intermezzo und Exit Music

Vorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand

Und wieder eine nagelneue Kopie. Charlton Heston in der Rolle des Michelangelo und Rex Harrison als Papst - was für ein Gespann. Der von Carol Reed im 65mm-Format aufgenommene Film hatte eine sehr gute Bildqualität und bewies aufs Neue, dass sich der Aufwand mit dem größten Bildnegativ lohnt. Im Vorprogramm gab es den sehr seltenen Film THE ARTIST WHO DIDN'T WANT TO PAINT zu sehen, für den eigens Jerry Goldsmith die Musik komponierte.

19:30

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal DTS Ton inklusive Pause und Intermezzo
Vorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand

Der Klassiker unter den Musicals erfreute sein Publikum ebenfalls mit einer nagelneuen Kopie. Auch hier eine tolle Bildschärfe und satte Farben, die sich speziell in den Außenaufnahmen in Salzburg bemerkbar machten.

SOUTH PACIFIC

70mm 1:2.21, 6-Kanal Stereo Magnetton

Vorgeführt auf der gekrümmten Leinwand

Auch aus Privatbesitz stammend war dies mit Abstand die schlechteste Kopie des Widescreen Weekends. Nicht nur, dass das gesamte Bild rot war, sondern auch die vielen Laufschrammen trübten das Erlebnis. Immerhin: der 6-Kanal Sound war unglaublich dynamisch und noch vollkommen intakt! Leider mussten wir während der Vorstellung bereits den Saal verlassen, um unsere Heimreise pünktlich antreten zu können. Jedoch trösteten uns Tony's einleitenden Worte sehr. Denn im kommenden Jahr soll eine komplett restaurierte Version des Films zur Verfügung stehen. Na, wenn das nicht Grund genug ist, im kommenden Jahr wieder eine Stippvisite nach Bradford einzulegen. Übrigens gab es im Vorprogramm zu SOUTH PACIFIC einen weiteren Todd-AO-Demofilm zu sehen: THE MARCH OF TODD-AO - im 70mm-Format und in dänischer Sprache!

Zusätzlich zu den Filmpräsentationen gab es noch weitere interessante Veranstaltungen im Pictureville Cinema:

eine Abhandlung über Gene Kelly und seine Filmwerke, eine Podiumsdiskussion mit Todd-AO-Pionier Walter Siegmund und eine Einführung in die technische Seite von Todd-AO durch Thomas Hauerslev. Bei einem solch geballten Programm gab es nicht viel Zeit zum Essen. Optimale Voraussetzungen also für Filmfans, die sowieso schon lange mal eine Diät machen wollten! Wer es aber gar nicht ohne Nahrung aushielt, für den hatte die Museumsküche stets Leckeres zu bieten - zumindest was die Engländer darunter verstehen.

Aber auch die schönste Veranstaltung geht einmal zu Ende. Wir mussten uns leider während der Vorführung von SOUTH PACIFIC von Bradford verabschieden. Der Kinomarathon, der uns an drei ganzen Tagen von morgens um 10:00 Uhr bis kurz vor Mitternacht in Bann hielt, war vorbei. Nicht aber der Zauber, der die gesamte Veranstaltung umgab und der auch bis heute noch anhält. Beim Gedanken an die perfekte Vorführung von HELLO DOLLY stellt sich auch Wochen später noch eine wohlige Gänsehaut ein und lässt uns schon mit Freude an das nächste Jahr in Bradford denken.

In der Provinz von Ontario regiert der charismatische Kultführer Roch „Moses“ Theriault mit eiserner Hand über ein grenzenlos ergebene Fährlein junger Frauen und deren mittlerweile stattliche Kinderschar. Einzig die furchtlose Sozialarbeiterin Paula Johnson, selbst gebranntes Kind in puncto Männergewalt, prangert die dort herrschenden Missstände an und versucht, offenkundig misshandelnde Sektenmitglieder zum Ausstieg zu bewegen. Als sie damit erste Erfolge erzielt, geht Theriault zum Gegenangriff über.

Jack And The Beanstalk

Dir. Gisaburo Sugii, Peter J. Solmo
Jack, a poor farm boy, is sent to town by his mother to sell their cow. Along the way, he encounters a wily musician who tricks him into trading the cow for five "magic" beans. Jack's outraged mother throws away the worthless beans. But during the night, they sprout into a beanstalk, reaching as high as the heavens. Jack climbs the stalk, accompanied by his faithful hound dog, Crosby. - Emerging through the clouds, he comes upon a castle and meets beautiful Princess Margaret, who's been enchanted by Hecuba, the wicked witch. Under the influence of magic, the princess believes she is in love with Hecuba's son, a dim-witted giant named Tulip. With the help of some mice, Jack is led to the castle's fabulous treasure trove. He schemes to silence the giant's talking harp, free the lovely princess, and return home with the giant's wealth, including a magic goose who lays golden eggs.

Millionaire Dogs

Dir. Michael Schoemann
The story starts with Chuffie, a dog who is dumped on the side of the road. He meets up with JD, another street dog. While they rest under a bridge, they find a talking parrot named Emmo who has lost his owner. The dogs try and eat Emmo, but in order to save his life, the parrot promises them a new home with his owner, the wealthy Miss Lilly. The two dogs feel right at home at their new mansion, along with Miss Lilly's other pets (all strays): the beautiful Bella, the frisky Velvet, and the guard dog Sherman. Unfortunately, it doesn't take long for Miss Lilly to "kick the bucket", and the dogs' future is in jeopardy, especially since Miss Lilly's scheming niece & nephew, Ronnie & Hannie (quite possibly the creepiest cartoons ever created) have had their eyes on the estate for quite some time. When the will reveals that the pets are to inherit the estate (including the mansion and one million dollars!), the twins decide to take matters into their own hands to try and get what they think they deserve. It's up to JD, Chuffie, Emmo, Bella, Sherman, and Velvet to stop the twins

The crew of the nuclear submarine USS Ulysses rescues supposed victims of a boat disaster, but the victims turn out to be terrorists intent on capturing nuclear weapons aboard the sub. Only a former SEAL, now a submarine consultant, can save the crew by sliding aboard while the sub is underwater. The term „crash dive" refers to the sudden dropping of a sub to escape detection, an act that a nuclear sub is never supposed to make. Of course, it comes into play in this film.

Hustle

Everybody „hustles“ - especially in Los Angeles where suicides, strip joints, shootouts, porno movies, the mob and murder combine into a collage. Caught in this web of modern reality is an old fashioned detective (Burt Reynolds). A moralist who still sees the difference between right and wrong, he can hardly reconcile himself to the ugliness of his job. - By day he investigates a young girl's suicide; at night he relaxes with Catherine Deneuve, a high-priced Paris call girl. Director Robert Aldrich elicits fine performances from Reynolds and Deneuve while his perceptive direction explains why they're never quite able to escape the hustle they're so uncomfortable with.

In this urgent quest, she must discover her inner strength, independence, and ability to be truly happy.

Monk: Season #3

Bitty Schram, Gail O'Grady, Ted Levine, Tony Shalhoub

Former police detective Adrian Monk (Tony Shalhoub) has suffered from intensified obsessive- compulsive disorder and a variety of phobias since the murder of his wife, Trudy, in 1997. Despite his photographic memory and his amazing ability to piece tiny clues together, he is now on psychiatric leave from the San Francisco Police Department. Aided by his friend and practical nurse, Sharon Fleming (Bitty Schram), Monk works as a freelance detective/consultant, hoping to convince his former boss, Captain Stottlemeyer (Ted Levine), to allow him to return to the force. Stottlemeyer wavers between admiration for Monk and annoyance at his eccentricities. Moreover, he harbors serious doubts about the wisdom of allowing Monk to carry a gun. Stottlemeyer's second-in-command, Lieutenant Disher (Jason Gray-Stanford), also has his doubts about Monk but seems to be developing a reluctant admiration for the „defective detective.“

Well, the world has finally managed to blow itself up. Only Australia has been spared from nuclear destruction and a gigantic wave of radiation is floating in on the breezes. Only 2 months are left. One American sub located in the Pacific has survived and is met with disdain by the Australians when it arrives. All of the calculations of Australia's most renowned scientist (Bryan Brown) says the country is at doomsday - get ready. However, one of his rivals say that is incorrect. He believes that a 1000 people can be relocated into the northern hemisphere, where his assumptions indicate the radiation levels may be lower. The American Captain (Armand Assante) is asked to take a mission to the north to determine which scientist is right (and along the way check out the devastation in Alaska & California - seemingly all bodies and vehicles were disintegrated). However, before the mission, all kinds of bland soap opera relationships are played out. Brown & his ex-fiancee (Rachel Ward) battle it out in a love-hate relationship. Meanwhile she also takes a liking to Assante, who is divided in his loyalties to his men and his love for his now-dead wife and children

Steve McQueen

Own the hit television series that launched the career of big-screen legend Steve McQueen. Josh Randall (McQueen) was not a typical rough-hewn bounty hunter of the Old West; he was a consummate gentleman who always gave half - or even all - of his reward money to charity. He was a man of few words, and he carried a Winchester sawed-off shotgun, which he wore on his belt and fondly called his „Mare's leg."

Windjammer

George O'Brien, Constance Worth, William Hall, Brandon Evans, Gavin Gordon, Stanley Blystone, Lal Chand Mehra, Ben Hendricks Jr., Lee Shumway, Frank Hagney, Sam Flint - Dir. Ewing Scott

The fourth and last of the George A. Hirliman-produced films starring George O'Brien (preceded by „Daniel Boone“, „Park Avenue Logger“ and „Hollywood Cowboy“) that were distributed by RKO Radio. Hirliman sold O'Brien's contract to RKO, which then produced 18 series westerns starring O'Brien that ended when O'Brien went into the Navy at the outbreak of WW II. Long-time (past and future) O'Brien director David Howard served as Hirliman's Associate Producer on this film. „Windjammer“ finds O'Brien as a subpoena server ordered to serve a subpoena on Brandon Evans (The Commodore) for a senate inquiry or lose his job. Posing as a playboy, he boards the Commodore's yacht during a yacht race, and the yacht is wrecked by a gun-running windjammer commanded by Captain Morgan (William Hall.) All hands are picked up by the windjammer, including the Commodore's daughter (played by Constance Worth, at her blonde, plumpish best) and put to work as galley slaves and such, but it isn't long before O'Brien starts knocking heads, and making the gun-runners wish they had left him swimming

One of the writers of this serial, George H. Plympton, dusted the story off and re-sold it to Sam Katzman for a Columbia 1951 serial called „Roar of the Iron Horse“. „Winners of the West“ was Universal's 47th sound-era serial, falling between „Flash Gordon Conquers the Universe“ and „Junior G-Men“, and while it utilizes plenty of stock footage featuring Cliff Lyons doubling Buck Jones and Johnny Mack Brown from earlier Universal serials, the use of such is less than in most Universal serials of the time. Jeff Ramsay (Dick Foran), assistant to John Hartford (Edward Keane), President of the Hartford Transcontinental Railroad, is fighting to advance the line through Hell's Gate Pass. King Carter (Harry Woods), self-styled ruler of the land beyond the pass, plans to block the construction of the railroad. Carter hires Snakeye (Charles Stevens), a renegade half-breed, to lead the Indians on raids against the construction camps. Hartford's daughter, Claire (Anne Nagel), is captured and held hostage until Jeff and scout Tex Houston (Tom Fadden) come to her rescue. Spurred on by Carter, the Indians and some hired henchmen rob supply trains, drive surveyors off and burn down the telegraph station. Finally, in a battle at Black Hawk, Carter's gang is wiped out by Jeff and Jim Jackson (James Craig.) Carter is turned over to the law, and a peace treaty is signed with Chief War Eagle (Chief Yowlachie). Jeff, and his bride, Claire are happy as pioneers welcome the first transcontinental train

This film is based on a true story about a British teenager who allegedly poisoned family, friends, and co-workers. Graham is highly intelligent, but completely amoral. He becomes interested in science, especially chemistry, and begins to read avidly. Something of a social misfit, he is fascinated by morbid subjects such as poisons and murder. His family environment is intolerable to him and, in particular, his stepmother torments him. He decides to poison those who annoy him, first with antimony and later with thallium. He smugly thinks himself cleverer than all those around him, but nevertheless he is caught and sentenced to 'rehabilitation' at a psychiatric institution. Once there, he undertakes to deceive the new eminent psychiatrist sent there to 'cure' him, thereby securing his release

Johann Strauss II: La Chauve Souris

Allessandra Ferri, Johann Strauss, Luigi Bonino, Massimo Murru - Dir. Roland Petit
The name of Roland Petit is almost synonymous with ballet itself, and although now 80, he still radiates vitality. Here he takes the opportunity to show off the strengths of his young, dazzlingly well-schooled and highly virtuosic dancers. La Chauve-Souris contains dance of every kind: classical ballet, waltz, clownish pantomime with Hungarian influence, and a rousing French cancan from a line-up of sexy, long legged revue girls. The resulting mix of Parisian esprit, Viennese charm and Milanese elegance is simply irresistible. - Roland Petit's „Fledermaus à la française“, La Chauve-souris, was originally created for the Ballet National de Marseille in 1979 with Petit's wife

Zizi Jeanmaire partnered by Denis Gano, and Luigi Bonino as the mastermind of the nocturnal escapades. The action was transferred from the operetta's Vienna to the Paris of Vaudeville theatres, the original source of Johann Strauss's celebrated operetta. - The ballet was re-staged for La Scala in their temporary home in the Teatro degli Arcimboldi in 2003. Directed by Luigi Bonino, Petit's long standing assistant, who also dances the role of Ulrich, it features two more dancing stars from the „Petit school“ in the principal roles: Massimo Murru, the male star dancer of La Scala's company, for whom Petit wrote several ballets and Allessandra Ferri, who currently counts among the world's finest ballerinas. She holds the coveted title of „Prima Ballerina Assoluta“ at La Scala, and was once described by Roland Petit as the only rightful successor to the legendary Zizi Jeanmaire. Cedar Walton Quartet: Recorded Live At The Umbria Jazz Festival

Billy Higgins, Cedar Walton, George Coleman, Sam Jones
*Four legends teamed up in 1975 and gave birth to the band named Eastern Rebellion: George Coleman, Sam Jones, Billy Higgins and Cedar Walton. TDK documents a concert that they gave a year later at the Umbria Jazz Festival in Orvieto, Italy. - Thirty years on, this band seems like a herald of things to come, taking the musical direction that was to find favour again in the 80s. The four musicians had played music at the highest level all their lives and gained their status as legends mostly in the important sideman function. Each of them had participated in many of jazz's great moments. All four shared the ability, documented on many albums, to inspire their fellow musicians to even greater heights. - Documented on many discs, the team comprised of Walton, Higgins and Sam Jones was one of the best rhythm groups of the Seventies. Backing tenors like Hank Mobley, Bob Berg and Clifford Jordan and indeed George Coleman was something like a speciality of theirs. The trio worked together like a dream, as Cedar Walton confirmed „With Billy, you were right in the music from the very first moment; you never had to warm up“. - TDK releases this DVD of a jazz night with piano legend Cedar Walton in their series of Jazz greats. As it was recorded at the Umbria Festival in Italy in 1976, the video quality of the film does not always conform to highest present-day DVD standards. Nonetheless, this recording has considerable value among Jazz recordings because of its documentary character and the artistic excellence it portrays. Music, Jazz, Concert 1976 FF M 62min.

Vernon, Florida

Dir. Errol Morris
Early Errol Morris documentary intersplices random chatter he captured on film of the genuinely eccentric residents of Vernon, Florida. A few examples?
